

The Department of Communication & Performance presents

An honors thesis showcase

FEATURING

Brooke Hornberger

Through the lens of Relational Dialectics Theory, Brooke explored the racial discourses among adult Asian adoptees in white transnational adoptive families.

Madison Arnold

Madison quantitatively investigated transgressions in the sibling context to determine the most influential factors of forgiveness between siblings.

Christian Price

Christian used two research methods to learn how popular films both subvert and uphold stereotypes of Black fathers and how these stereotypes impact children with Black fathers.

Thursday, April 6
3:00-4:15pm

Quillen Conference Room
Sherrod Library 4th floor