

Figure 5. Percentage of respondents who feel colleges and universities are important for ensuring equal access, continuing education, personal growth, earning potential and intellectual growth by whether they think the state is headed in the right direction or on the wrong track.

