  - a. ETSU President, Dr. Brian Noland- Thanked SGA for patience with Culp move. Emphasized all of the fantastic construction plans that the university has planned. Asked us to share input with Dr. Howard. The Martin Center continues to be constructed, and we plan to make use of it soon. The humanities building funding is still up in the air. Dr. Noland has been to Nashville a lot lately to help represent ETSU in the capitol. The tornado has caused considerable damage in middle Tennessee. No new legislation appears to be of major concern to Dr. Noland. Three weeks ago, he would have been concerned about the student carry bill. Tuition will stay within the 2% increase. SGA concerns and faculty staff salaries will be addressed with the increase. A lot of planning is occurring on corona virus. Have a team on campus meeting everyday for about two hours a day. Harvard and Vanderbilt had closures. When you go home follow WHO recommendations.

About 15% of those 80 or older impacted by the disease die. Be prepared just in case we are unable to return. Take your school materials with you. Things change quickly. Dr. Noland had a squirrel in the house last night and had a great time at the basketball game last night. Mentioned the upcoming civility week. What would happen if we shut down for those who live on campus? Answer: undecided currently. Staff would most likely continue to work, so we hope to be able to make necessary accommodations. Communicated that international travel is restricted through June 15th. Corporate groups have set restrictions on domestic travel, and we will deliver an appropriate response. Would graduation still occur if the closure occurred? American counsel for education has terminated their meeting. Students who are set to study abroad will get refunded if impacted. International student situations and questions are being looked into and leniency is being sought. Many private universities are asking their students where they will be going for spring break. The chief of police search has been brought down to five possible people. Encouraged us to help those in need in our state.

- b. Kim Hale- CCAMPIS Grant- Is over Little Bucs and child studies center. We were awarded about $800,000 over the last few years. Money is used for new hires and to help families with childcare. We got the money in 2018. This year we awarded about $90,000 in childcare help. Purchased “hi momma” app. Licensed to serve 82 students at Little Bucs. The grant is very competitive. Tries to connect students with families to resources on campus. We have the money until 2022. A survey should go out after spring break about student needs for those with children. International students can utilize services.
